- 4.1.1 The FTSE Sustainability-Linked Bond Index Series excludes asset-backed and mortgage-backed securities. For full details on the design criteria and calculation assumptions for each Base Index, please see the FTSE Fixed Income Index Guide, which can be accessed using the following link: FTSE Fixed Income Indexes Guide.pdf
- 4.2 Sustainability-Linked Bond (SLB) Eligibility Criteria
- 4.2.1 The FTSE Sustainability-Linked Bond Index Series incorporates data from Refinitiv which identifies eligible securities that are in alignment with the ICMA Sustainability-Linked Bond Principles (SLBP).
- 4.2.2 The ICMA Sustainability-Linked Bond Principles (SLBP) can be accessed using the following link: Sustainability-Linked Bond Principles \(SLBP\) » ICMA \(icmagroup.org\)
- 4.2.3 As defined by ICMA, Sustainability-Linked Bonds (SLBs) are any type of bond instrument for which the financial and/or structural characteristics can vary depending on whether the issuer achieves predefined Sustainability/ ESG objectives. In that sense, issuers are thereby committing explicitly (including in the bond documentation) to future improvements in sustainability outcome(s) within a predefined timeline. SLBs are a forward-looking performance-based instrument. Those objectives are (i) measured through predefined Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) and (ii) assessed against predefined Sustainability Performance Targets (SPTs).
- 4.2.4 The ICMA's Sustainability-Linked Bond Principles (SLBP) have five core components to ensure the transparency and governance of Sustainability-Linked Bond issuance.
- Selection of Key Performance Indicators (KPIs)
 - Calibration of Sustainability Performance Targets (SPTs)
 - Bond characteristics
 - Reporting
 - Verification

- 4.2.5 If a trigger event occurs that leads to a change in the structure of a bond that deems it ineligible for the index based on other eligibility criteria, such as Coupon Type, it will exit the index at the next monthly rebalance. In such instances, FTSE Russell may also reference its Statement of Principles to determine the most appropriate index treatment.

4.3 Index Review of Post Issuance Reporting

- 4.3.1 On an ongoing basis, the availability of post issuance reports, which bond issuers are encouraged by SLBP to disclose on a regular basis, will be examined for index inclusion purposes. The post issuance report should disclose up-to-date information on the performance of the selected KPIs and SPTs. The search for a post issuance report will be conducted approaching the 12th month since a bond was issued. For example, if a bond is issued on 15 January, the search will take place in January of the following year.

Index handling for the availability of post issuance reports and verification is described as follows:

- The post issuance report is available
 - If a post issuance report is available and the performance at the last SPT observation date has been disclosed and verified in the latest report, the bond will be considered to have fulfilled the reporting commitment permanently.
 - Taking a bond that matures on 15 January 2027 with the observation date on 15 January 2025 as an illustrative example. If the issuer fails to achieve the pre-defined SPT on the observation date, such trigger event will lead to the change of bond characteristic (such as coupon step-up) and the bond will be considered to have failed to achieve the pre-defined SPT. However, it will still be considered in alignment with ICMA SLBP and will be eligible for the index inclusion until its maturity, as long as the measurement of SPT and the adjustment to the instrument financial/structural characteristics have been disclosed and verified.
 - If the latest post issuance report is available and the last SPT observation date of the bond has not been reached, the bond will be subject to follow-up post issuance report confirmations on an annual basis until the last SPT target observation date has passed, and the SPT performance has been disclosed and verified.
- The post issuance report is not available
 - If its first post issuance report is not available immediately after the 12th month since the issuance, the SLB will be placed on a Watch List for an extended observation for 6 months. For example, if a bond is issued on 15 January, and the post issuance report is not available in January of the following year, the bond will remain as index eligible and is subject to a subsequent search for a post issuance report in July of the same year.
 - A bond will be removed from the index if the issuer fails to release a post issuance report publicly in the 18-month period since the issue date. For example, if a bond is issued on 15 January, and the post issuance report is not available by the end July in the following year, it will be removed from the index at the July month-end rebalance.
 - If an issuer fails to release a report within an 18-month period since its last post issuance report and the last SPT observation date of the bond has not yet been reached, the bond will also be removed from the index.
 - When an index bond is removed, it's no longer considered eligible for inclusion in the future.

4.4 Sustainability-Linked Bond (SLB) analytics and cash flow assumptions

- 4.4.1 The SLB analytics which is derived from future cash flow is based on the assumption that bond characteristics and/or coupon stay unchanged. The change of a bond's financial and/or structural characteristics (e.g., any potential variation of its coupon and/or redemption value) is reflected when the change is officially announced by the issuer after the trigger event.
